OUR STORY

Nestled into the rocky shoreline sits the quaint village of Ranier, Minnesota that was once the epicenter of smuggling spirits during the 1920s. But none of this could have been possible without the Historic Cantilever Bridge, the conduit that connected Canada to the United States.

The Speakeasies and the Gin Joints needed a steady supply to stay in business, and we can neither confirm or deny that the fine citizens of Ranier were involved. Unbeknownst to the border patrol (often overlooked by residents), the Cantilever Bridge was the pipeline to liquid libations that would entertain not only the Northwoods but consistently reach as far as Chicago and beyond.

As we look to our past to inspire our future, Cantilever brings back that history, the passion, and the excitement of a bygone era to offer you amazing distilled spirits that are all hand-distilled from scratch using the finest Minnesota grains and water from the Canadian Shield.

Our distillery is built at the former site of the world-renown headquarters of Woody's Fairly Reliable Guide Service, a favorite to anglers around the world. With a nod to history (and to Woody), Cantilever produces a fun, lifestyle-driven spirit line called Woody's Fairly Reliable. These products are handmade with our love of life on the lake, sharing great times, and building unforgettable memories.

We hope that you enjoy our quaint little project in a historic little fishing village, and if you choose to cross into Canada, you can always do it by air, land, or water, but for us, it will always be about the bridge.
